3. Four-Eyes Principle: Maker vs Checker Approval Workflows

To comply with pharmaceutical regulations (NMRA) and statutory audit standards, the ERP strictly separates data entry creation (Makers) from authorizing authority (Approvers).

Operational Workflow	Drafter / Maker Account	Approver / Checker Account	Regulatory Governance Rule
Goods Receipt Notes (GRN)	storekeeper@ceylonmed.lk Storekeeper	warehouse.manager@ceylonmed.lk Warehouse Manager	Receiving bay clerks enter dock counts and batch expiry dates. Inventory balances and ledger entries post only after Warehouse Manager review and digital sign-off.
Sales Orders & Credit Limits	medical.rep@ceylonmed.lk billing.officer@ceylonmed.lk	sales.director@ceylonmed.lk Sales Director	Commercial field reps draft orders from hospital accounts. Orders exceeding customer credit ceilings or price variance exceptions require executive authorization.
Credit Notes & Returns	billing.officer@ceylonmed.lk Billing Officer	sales.director@ceylonmed.lk cfo@ceylonmed.lk	Billing clerks cannot issue credit refunds or inventory adjustments unilaterally. Mandatory maker-checker sign-off prevents unauthorized price write-downs.
NMRA Quarantine & Recalls	qc.officer@ceylonmed.lk QC Laboratory Pharmacist	qa.director@ceylonmed.lk QA Director	QC Pharmacists log laboratory assay failures and request batch quarantine holds. Formal recall notices to hospitals and toxic waste destruction require QA Director approval.
General Ledger & Closing	accountant@ceylonmed.lk Senior Accountant	cfo@ceylonmed.lk Chief Financial Officer	Accountants draft journal vouchers and bank reconciliations. Period closing locks ledgers against further modification and can only be executed by the CFO.
Independent Surveillance	auditor@ceylonmed.lk Chief Internal Auditor	Unrestricted Read-Only Surveillance Keys	Internal Auditor holds 123 read-only keys for unhindered operational surveillance across general ledgers, stock balances, audit logs, and compliance records.
